1. Since the end of December 1950, the Kyritz (N 53/Z 19) hospital has again been able to treat patients with penicillin. On 13 January 1951 the hospital stocks of penicillin amounted to 80 million units, and additional supplies, if required, could be obtained without difficulty through a Kyritz pharmacy.
2. No particular shortages occurred in the supply of drugs to the Neuruppin (N 53/Z 49) hospital during December 1950 and January 1951. The hospital does not dispense any penicillin. During the early part of January 1951, the anti-tetanus serum requested by the hospital was delivered in normal quantities for the first time in months. On 22 January 1951 the stocks of anti-tetanus serum amounted to about 60 ampoules.
